Writing, Editing, and Book Development

"We want to thank our editor. Without you, there wouldn't be a book."

Erik Peper, PhD, SFSU, Cofounder, Institute for Holistic Health

Is there a book that you've been burning to write? If you have the vision and drive, we have the skills and experience to help you make your book a reality. We work with authors to help them take their book from concept to reality, and we've coauthored, authored, and edited books published by:

- Alpha/Penguin
- Harper/Quill
- Hunter House
- McGraw-Hill
- Adams Media
- Celestial Arts
- Healing Arts
- New World Library
- Elsevier
- Jones & Bartlett
- New Harbinger
- North Atlantic

We can partner with you to create a book that furthers your goals. Our services are designed to:

- Define your unique message
- Develop your ideas into a cohesive book
- Provide writing, coauthoring, or editing services as you wish
- Complete the manuscript
- Strategize your book's promotion
- Alert you to sales opportunities beyond the bookstore

We understand the organization, pacing, and resources required to successfully develop, write, and market a book. Our collaborative approach is designed to support and sustain you throughout the process. You want to reach your audience, to assure that your message has an impact. We can help you achieve that.

"Nancy Faass is one of the leading writers for the Townsend Letter.

I compare her writing with that offered in The Atlantic Magazine."

Jonathan Collin, MD, Publisher, Townsend Letter

"Ms. Faass' services were invaluable...Over the course of my three-week vacation, working by phone interview, she helped me conceptualize the book, develop the table of contents, and write a successful proposal.

J. Michael Menke, PhD, University of Arizona, Program in Integrative Medicine

"I read without stopping for about three hours after opening the book..."
